CELLULITE of the stars

Even sexy celebs can't get rid of it!

It's a girl thing! Young or old, chubby or thin, most women have struggled with those darn dimples known as cellulite. And some of Hollywood's most beautiful stars face the same battle - despite having the money to pay for personal trainers, pricey cosmetics and expensive beauty treatments. Now we've uncovered amazing photos that expose the bumpy butts and wrinkled thighs of top Tinseltown stars - and you may be surprised at who they are!

She's trimmed, she's toned, she's tan-tastic, but JENNIFER ANISTON can't banish the bumps on her buns! The 39-year-old former "Friends" star flashes a racy rear-end view at a hotel swimming pool in Florida.

Scarlet-maned PHOEBE PRICE is known for unveiling startling red carpet outfits. But on the beach in Malibu, the 35-year-old model/actress unveils a startling case of cellulite.

Her pricey VelaShape treatment to reduce thigh wrinkles was set to be featured on E! channel's "Keeping Up With the Kardashians," but even 27-year-old KIM KARDASHIAN knows cellulite never really goes away.
